

Geological Applications of Remote Sensing (GARS)

Objectives:

- Demonstrate the use of advanced remote sensing techniques for the resolution of key geological questions.
- Ensure the transfer of information and technology through cooperative field research combined with educational programmes.
- Ensure wide dissemination of scientific results of program activities.