Launch of the International Year of the Planet Earth

On 12 and 13 February 2008, the International Year of Planet Earth will be officially launched at UNESCO's headquarters in Paris. This event will be co-organized by the IYPE Corporation and the National Committee of the IYPE in France, together with IUGS and UNESCO. UNESCO's Director General Koïchiro Matsuura will host the Event and some Heads of State will be invited to address the audience. More information on: <http://yearofplanetearth.org/index.html>

IYPE in Nature

As you may know, Nature will now be publishing a new scientific journal dealing exclusively with geosciences. This issue celebrates the International Year of Planet Earth. The articles are free to download at this time.
